TOLL BRIDGE KEEPER THWARTS AN EARLY MORNING BANDIT

A ROBBER ATTEMPTS TOLL BRIDGE HOLDUP

Bandit, Who Has Not Been Apprehended, Frustrated In His Designs, When James Marsh, Tollkeeper, Reaches For Revolver

ROBBER HASTILY DECAMPS

Seen Coming In Direction of Charleroi — Patrolmen Corey And Gelder Summoned, And Aided By G. M. Dennis, Make Diligent Search

Quick action on the part of James Marsh, aged 28 years, toll keeper, at the Charleroi-Monessen bridge this morning at 3:45 o'clock, prevented a daring robber from garnering the receipts of the previous evening and the early morning hours, for when the unknown bandit attempted to raise the window the falling of the slide at the money entrance attracted the attention of Mr. Marsh, and making a movement for his revolver, the would-be thief hastily decamped, it is thought in the direction of this borough, but he has not been apprehended.

Mr. Marsh repaired to the taxi office of G. M. Dennis in the building formerly occupied as the Cratty grocery, and called the Charleroi police, Patrolmen Corey and Gelder repairing to the scene. According to the description of the bandit as given by Mr. Marsh, he was a short, heavy-set man, youthful in appearance, and devoid of a mask. Mr. Marsh was unable to get a good look at the face of the would-be holdup artist, as he decamped so quickly when he reached for his gun, that this was impossible. He had on a coat similar to that worn by taxi-drivers, with a fur collar. This rather meagre description of the would-be thief, the best that Mr. Marsh, who is a resident of Eldora Park, could give, was telephoned to the police of Monongahela, and will be furnished the other officers in the valley with the hope of capturing the rascal.

Patrolmen Corey and Gelder and Mr. Dennis made diligent search for the bandit, but were unable to get a trace of him. It is said that he was seen coming in the direction of Charleroi, but while the local officers made search all along the route and in the vicinity of the toll station, the would-be robber could not be found. It is the opinion of the police that the robber was an amateur by his manner of procedure in the holdup attempt.

Another Death Due To Carbon Monoxide Gas

Pittsburgh, December 30.—Another death by carbon monoxide gas was caused today when the deadly fumes in generating from a water heater filled the sleeping quarters of the family of Louis Rubin, a grocerman, of Wall borough.

Mrs. Sarah Zehner, 64, Rubin's mother-in-law, died from the effects of the gas and only the efforts of Rubin himself saved his wife and three daughters, though all are in a serious condition.

Rubin was aroused by the moans of his mother-in-law, and though apparently overcome by the gas, managed to open all the windows in the house and carry other members of the family to fresh air.

Many Of The Vets Ignore The Bonus

Information from Washington says that more than one-half of the World War veterans entitled to adjusted compensation are not interested in the matter to apply for it.

This is the conclusion of officials in charge of administration of the recently enacted bonus. Of the 4,200,000 veterans entitled to the bonus, but 1,800,000 have applied for it. About 2,400,000 have not filed applications.

The first batch of insurance certificates are ready to be mailed from the veterans' bureau at Washington January 1, 1925. Some officials attribute the failure of veterans to apply for their insurance certificates to misunderstanding on their part of the value of these certificates.

Representative Elmer Thomas of Oklahoma, is proposing in Congress to simplify the payment of this adjusted compensation by amending the present law so that the insurance certificates can be turned into the government immediately for cash. Thomas is drafting a bill to this end. He says that many ex-service men believe that borrowing money in insurance certificates involves too much trouble.

Judge Crumrine Gets Very High Honors As Mason

J. Boyd Crumrine, president judge of the Orphans' court of Washington county, has been signally honored in Masonry by his appointment on Saturday by Right Worshipful Grand Master Samuel M. Goodyear, of Pennsylvania, as district deputy grand master for the 29th district, F. & A. M. of Pennsylvania. Judge Crumrine will succeed J. Wilbert Wallace of Washington, who the past week presented his resignation to the grand master at the grand lodge meeting held in Philadelphia. Mr. Wallace gives up the work because of the press of other business not allowing him to give the time to the work that it requires.

Judge Crumrine, the new appointee, is one of the best known young men of the county, a former well-known attorney, a member of the law firm of Acheson & Crumrine until his elevation to the bench. He has been very active in Masonry ever since he became affiliated with the fraternity. He is a past master of Sunset Lodge No. 623, F. & A. M., of Washington, and a past high priest of Washington Chapter, Royal Arch Masons. He is a member of Washington Council, Royal and Select Masters, and of Jacques de Molay Commandery No. 3, Knights Templar; also of Pittsburgh Consistory, Scottish Rite (Thirty-second Degree) and of Syria Temple of the Shriners.

JACOB WISE SEVENTY-SEVEN

Jacob Wise, 722 Washington avenue, one of the very few surviving veterans of the Civil war, was 77 years old on Sunday, December 28. Mr. Wise, who has been a resident of Charleroi for about nine years, is in the possession of his faculties, and in good health.

On his natal day there was no outward demonstration in honor of the event, probably very few of Mr. Wise's many friends being cognizant that it was his birthday. However, Page McGee, John McGee, the Misses Alice and Nellie McGee, Southside, Pittsburgh, and Miss Aggie Russell, of Mt. Washington, the latter-named place being the former home of Mr. Wise, did not forget their old-time friend and soldier-patriot, inasmuch as they came to Charleroi in the afternoon of Sunday and extended to him their congratulations on his arrival at another milestone in his journey through life, trusting that he will be spared to his relatives and friends and the community, where he is still a potent factor, despite his age, yet many years.

ROBBED MAN GETS VENGEANCE

David Monrous, who conducts a restaurant in West Brownsville, was held up and robbed by two youthful bandits early yesterday morning, after which he trailed them thieves to the railroad station and caused their arrest.

Monrous told the detectives he was alone in his restaurant when the men entered and ordered him to throw up his hands. Monrous said he complied and they took $20 from him and escaped. After the bandits left, Monrous said he quickly obtained an overcoat and followed the two robbers, who boarded a train for Pittsburgh.

After arriving in the Brownsville station, Monrous grasped both young men as they were walking through the station. City Detectives William Sullivan and Frank Boyd who were in the station arrested the two men and gave their names as Alexander J. Jacobs and Robert G. Bush, both of West Brownsville.

Man Caught And Pinned Under Machine

Adolph Sklar, of Second street, Monongahela, is confined to his bed suffering from injuries and exposure as the result of an accident on Peterman's hill near Bentleyville Sunday evening. His car skidded and crashed into a ditch while traveling at a fast rate of speed. Sklar was thrown from the seat, and falling beneath the machine, his foot was pinned beneath a wheel. He was found unconscious and his clothing coated with ice by residents who heard the crash and ran to the wrecked car.

The first coasting accident of the season in Monongahela occurred Sunday evening. James Kirkpatrick, aged 12, son of Mrs. Maude Kirkpatrick, of Parkinson street, having his leg so badly gashed that 22 stitches were required to close the hurt. He was removed to the Memorial hospital.

Burgettstown Man Meets Death When Caught By The Bailer Cable

When he was caught in the cable at a gas well on the Hudson Tucker farm, two miles west of Florence yesterday afternoon, Arthur J. Cook, 49 years old, a resident of Burgettstown, was dragged to his death.

Cook, with three other men, was engaged in cleaning out a well, using a team of horses to pull out the bailer. One of the men, Patterson, was driving the team, and Cook was standing out in the field directing operations. As the horses were pulling out the bailer, the hook on the doubletree snapped, letting the cable go free.

As the cable started to run back to the well, Cook ran to jump on it, despite the warning of Patterson. He was caught in the cable and dragged over 200 feet to the black at the well, where he was torn free of the cable.

The skull of Cook was fractured, his left leg broken in five places, both feet were practically severed, and four ribs were broken, one of the fractured ribs piercing his heart. He was quite dead when his companions reached his side.

The decedent was born in Parkers Landing in the year 1876, and had been engaged in the oil and gas business practically all of his life. He was a member of the company that was operating the lease on the Tucker farm. For a number of years he resided at New Florence, but had been a resident of Burgettstown for nine years.

There survive his widow and six children.

Result of Break in the Water Main In South Brownsville—Much Water In the Mine—Mine Officials Are Alarmed

MINE MAY BE CLOSED

Officials Notify the Water Company This Will Happen If the Break Is Not Soon Located—Reservoir Empty And Water Famine Is In Prospect

Brownsville, December 30.—The Alicia mine, employing about 500 men, is in danger of being flooded as a result of a break in the water main in South Brownsville.

Much water has already poured into the mine. Mine officials notified the water company today that the mine would have to close as a measure of precaution, if the break was not located soon.

The reservoir, which ordinarily contains about 12 feet of water, is empty and a water famine here is in prospect.

LOCAL MANTO BE WHOLESALE

After January 1, James Stevenson, local merchant and baker, will discontinue the retail business of selling bread, pastries and the like at 408 Fallowfield avenue to go entirely into the wholesale business at his large bakery plant at the corner of Second street and Washington avenue. Mr. Stevenson has been conducting both places of business for the past few years, and is one of Charleroi's foremost merchants. In addition to quitting the retail business, Mr. Stevenson has sold the three-story brick building used for his residence and storeroom in Fallowfield avenue to Attorney Roy I. Carson, the deal having been closed several weeks ago. Since that time the first and third floors of the structure have been rented by Mr. Carson to the Leitch Electric company, this company to take possession some time around the first of February.

The second floor of the building will probably be turned into business offices.

Mystery Connected With Deaths Of Aged Couple

Los Angeles, Dec. 30.—The bodies of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Holly of New York, were found by the police of Hollywood, who have on their hands today a mystery apparently as engrossing as any in recent history of the famous film colony.

The couple had been dead since Christmas, yet a search of the bungalow failed to reveal the manner in which they died. Holly, who is reported wealthy, was 65, and his wife, 55. No evidence of the couple having been poisoned was found in a preliminary investigation.

Mrs. Holly was found in bed fully clothed and with the covers pulled closely around her.

Blood stains were about her nose and mouth indicating hemorrhage. Holly was lying on the floor, also dressed.

The room was in order. Christmas packages were banked around a small tree.

Theodore Covel, of Burbank, a nephew, said Holly spent Christmas at his home and that he was surprised to find the bodies.

in good spirits. He scouted the suicide theory. Report of autopsy sargeants is awaited when it will be determined whether the stomachs of the two contain poison.

AIRPLANES AS "CIVILIZERS."

Since the invention of the airplane the backward and savage peoples have been more than ever at a disadvantage in their struggle with civilized powers. For centuries the civilized have won not merely by superior armament but by their ability to excite the superstitious fears of primitive peoples, and now the airplane has become an awe-inspiring instrument more powerful and persuasive than any previous invention. In the operations of the American Marines in Haiti, for example, these cloud-climbing machines have been wonderfully effective. According to the reports, the sinister natives of the island have been driven into terror and their spirit of rebellion has perceptibly weakened at the mere sight of these "wicked angels" come out of the sky to aid the Americans. Similar results were recently reported from Iraq by Lord Thompson, Air Minister for Great Britain under the cabinet. The British are now sending the use of bombing planes to keep recalcitrant natives in order, and describing the airplane as a "civilizer," declared that bombing is done sparingly with few casualties, and said further, "The use of aircraft inspires the people with wonder and fear. They have been impressed as by nothing else by this unknown weapon, this all-seeing eye with its terrible effect. Nothing else could have achieved the same result in dealing with the disturbers of the peace. A punitive expedition would have been expensive, and would have taken weeks to arrive, but the prompt action possible with aircraft has saved many lives." Civilized empire-builders have cause to bless, and natives terrified into submission have cause to curse, the wonderful, awe-inspiring and convenient airplane.

Always Good Follows Evil

The bad luck of thirteen, in cases where it is definitely unlucky, has this redeeming feature: That out of its evil, good always comes at last, and people look back on their adversity as a time that has taught them the best things they know. So it is not really a number to be frightened of. Of course, the unknown is always alarming, and thirteen is particularly associated with the unknown. But from its clouds sunshine always emerges in the end.—Exchange.

"White House" Once Gray

John Adams was the first President to occupy the White House in 1800. In those days it was gray, having been built of Virginia freestone. After the British burned it, in 1814, white paint was used to cover the marks of the fire, and since that time this paint has been renewed repeatedly. The White House grounds within the iron fence contain 18 acres, while the adjoining White lot has 70 acres.

Ancient Wigs Well Made

As far back as the time of Rameses II, women were not content with the crowning glory nature supplied. One of America's leading wigmakers tells of examining a wig taken from the sarcophagus of an Egyptian mummy. That wig was so wonderfully wrought that one must conclude the art was highly developed in the civilization of the ancients.

Andersen's Tales

The first of the fairy tales that have made Hans Christian Andersen famous appeared in 1836. Andersen, who was born in 1805 and died in 1875, was a native of Odense, Denmark. He began his career as an actor, but after a course in Copenhagen university, turned to literature. He was a novelist, poet and writer of travel tales as well as the creator of fairy tales.

Hark, Hark, the Lark!

A little daughter of the shrike, on her first day in the country, saw a lark, merrily high in air, pouring forth its lovely music. She listened a moment, then she ran to the mother. GREENWOOD IS BEATEN TWICE BY CUPOLOS

The National Three-Cushion Billiard League, won both of his matches in the McCourt-Elis parlor, Pittsburgh yesterday afternoon and evening with Billy Greenwood, Pittsburgh boy.

In the afternoon, Cupulos ran out when Greenwood had moved only 44 members in the 30 innings of work. His high run was five, while Greenwood's best effort was four.

In the evening, Cupulos' string got heavy when Greenwood threatened with 47 in 96 innings. The best work of each duplicated the earlier performances.

Willie Davies Gets Decision Over Hughey Manson of Homestead

Willie Davies settled the argument at McKeesport last night as to who was the better boy, he or Manson, by taking eight straight rounds from the Homestead favorite. Manson was given the worst beating he has ever subjected to, and though considered a fast boy himself, he was unable to get started against the clever Davies, who hit him with left jabs, hooks, uppercuts, and everything else in a boxer's repertoire and with a speed that dumfounded the audience. It was Davies' first appearance in McKeesport and the fans loudly demanded that he be brought back. Matchmaker McGirr is now looking for some classy flyweight to meet him. Aggressive Willie Davies of Charleroi was given the decision over Hughey Manson of Homestead in the eight-round semi-final. The Charleroi lad outgeneraled Manson and forced the fighting throughout. Only at critical stages did Manson take the offensive. Two newcomers in the title line-up in this section, Ed Verdi of Jamestown, N. Y., and Rosy Stoy of Lancaster, Pa., put on a fairly interesting 10-round bout in the Palisades under the auspices of the Majestic club. Be-

M'Farland-Sweeney Meet In Semi-Final Of Greb-Ratner Bout

With the signing of K. O. Sweeney of Mingo, and Jack McFarland of Wilkesburg, for the eight round semi-final of the Harry Greb-Augus Ratner holiday matinee at Motor Square Garden Thursday afternoon, Matchmaker McGarvey last night was seeking a second bout to complete the program. A change was also made in the opening number. Young Kid Boots of Charleroi supplanting Tommy Meyers as an opponent for Sammy Butler of Homewood. The signing of Sweeney foreshadows a hot, likely to stop the winning streak of McFarland. Sweeney bears the distinction of flooring Brickley Ryan in a bout in Mingo several months ago and beating Pettie Roberts, Patsy Flanagan and other good boys at his weight.

Ratner, with Charlie Johnson, his manager, is due in Pittsburgh today and will engage in two public workouts at the Garden today and tomorrow to give the fans an idea of how he will shape up with Greb. Ratner has been working hard in New York and realizing what it means to him to beat Greb will be in the best shape of his career. The New York tough boy is anxious to enhance the prestige he gained by the one-round knockout of Jack Delaney and the popular victory he scored over Paul Berlenbach. THREE LEADING WOMEN REQUIRED FOR PHOToplay

"Behold This Woman," which will be shown at the Majestic Theatre tomorrow, is a peculiar photodrama in that it has three leading women, of three distinct types and all of about equal importance. Irene Rich portrays the movie star, who ultimately wins out and marries the hero. Rosemary Theby handles the role of dancer and "vamp" who tries her best to lead the hero astray. Marguerite de la Motte is cast as a real pal and wins most of the sympathy, although she loses out in her struggle for the hero's love.

These three women were selected from a score of possibilities because they were most admirably suited to the roles through their personalities and popular appeal. They are three of the most popular leading women in the country and have a huge following with picture audiences.

"Behold This Woman" is so arranged that none of the three roles is in any way subordinated to the others and each one might be termed a stellar role. Each calls for intense emotional acting and great histrionic ability.

Rosemary Theby is afforded ample opportunity to display her terpsichorean ability; Irene Rich her womanly appeal and charm; Marguerite de la Motte her sincerity and open frankness. It is seldom that such a combination is found in a single production.

The three principal male roles are about equally divided. Charles B. Post, because of his herculean build, was selected as the hero; Anders Randolph portrays the cold, reserved, woman-hater, who is bent on saving his brother from the wiles and caprices of women at any cost. Harry Myers has the heavy role, but even this is different from the average conception of a movie "villain." He is one of the lovable type, with a good heart, who is always ready to do the right thing when shown that he is in the wrong.

LOVE FOR THEIR MOTHER CAUSES SILENT LIPS

Namikon, Ont., Dec. 30.—Love for their mother and a childish desire to protect her from the law, caused the two little sons of the murdered Joe Baytowiz to keep silent yesterday when asked to repeat statements that they had seen her beat their father to death with a poker.

At the inquest, Tony, 7, and his big brother Walter, had told a vivid story. And on their evidence, their mother and four men were arrested, charged with the murder.

But when trial began yesterday, King's evidence dwindled. Tony and Walter, with tear-dimmed eyes, refused to talk. And when the four men were brought before them for identification, they clasped their hands over their eyes, still silent.

Can You Open 1925's Treasure Chest?

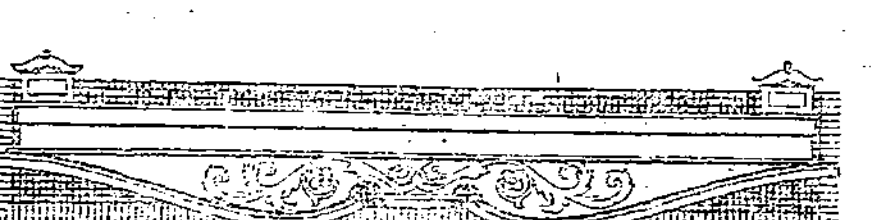

Wrapped up in the days of the New Year are opportunities for each one to get ahead in life—to reach some of the goals every ambitious person aims for.

Energy, honesty, skill, experience—these you need. But they are not all.

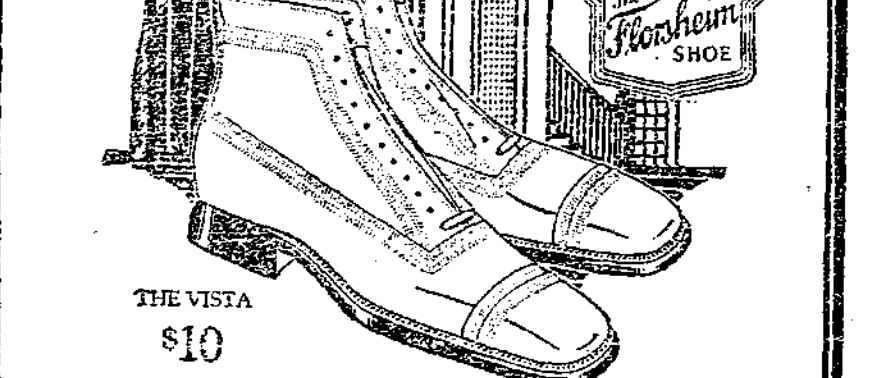

You need the confidence and support of money in bank—a reserve of strength that will help you when your chance comes, if it is getting the home you want, or a share in business, or more land, or new equipment, or other things that cost money.

You will write your own record in 1925. May it be the kind you want and hope for—and may the New Year prove the best you have ever had!

GOOD-BYE TO SKINNY BODIES

Improved Cod Liver Oil and Hypophosphites Tablets Guaranteed to Build Up Frail, Weak and Worn-Out Skinny Folks

Thousands of frail, weak, worn-out thin folks can now say good-bye to skinny bodies. The reason for this is the introduction of the famous Earle's Hypo-Cod in Tablet Form. These tablets contain loads of the extractives of Cod Liver Oil, the most potent of all health and flesh builders. Everyone knows this phenomenal oil will build up skinny bodies, and to be able to take it in easy-to-take tablet form means a great deal to those who cannot take the terrible tasting stuff in its original form.

In addition to Cod Liver Oil extractives, Hypo-Cod Tablets contain the combined hypophosphites of lime, soda and iron to purify the blood and increase strength and vigor, giving manganese and strychnine to aid the stomach, heart and nerves, besides the greatest of all blood enrichers, peptonate of iron.

Recommended in Charleroi by Frank J. John and Piper's Pharmacy, and in Roscoe by Allison's Drug Store and other good druggists everywhere, who guarantee results.

ELECTION. Annual Meeting of the Stockholders of the Bank of Charleroi & Trust Company, Charleroi, Pa., for the election of Directors to serve for the ensuing year or until their successors are elected and qualified, and to transact other business that may come before them, will be held at its Banking Rooms on Thursday, January 8, 1925, between the hours of 2:00 o'clock and 3:00 o'clock P. CLAIMS HIS BUDGET NOT GIVEN CORRECTLY

Paris, Dec. 30.—Finance Minister Clementel, whose budget statement with its suggestion of new agreements regarding France's debts caused a sensation in financial and government circles throughout the world, protested to the French press today that parts of his financial inventory had been misinterpreted.

He had not intended, the minister said, to propose pooling of allied war debts.

"Current French opinion favors this, but I would not sponsor it," Clementel explained.

The minister said, moreover, that he does not assume responsibility for the suggestion that American war profits should be deducted from France's debt to the United States.

The chamber of deputies last night refused to debate on interpellations regarding prosecution of the editor of L'Eclair for publication of confidential government reports, but instead gave the government a vote of confidence 343 to 9, the opposition refraining from voting.

Clouds Very Croaky
in Their Composition

Air is viscid, like molasses, but of course not so sticky. Not only is it viscid, but its viscosity varies greatly with temperature and pressure. On the ground clouds diffuse rapidly, higher up they are rogy and still higher they are granular, like sand grains on a beach. There are cloud levels and clear spaces in the air where clouds are rare or never go. These levels were determined before the earth took its shape. They are fixed by the dynamic laws of the globe, says the Rehoboth Sunday Herald.

The lowest clouds lie at less than 5,000 feet above the ground, and they would float there if this world were all gaseous, like the planet Jupiter is. On stormy days they do, in fact, come as near to the land as they can, and hug the ground so closely that they make the day dark. These clouds are heavy rolling billows.

Certainly Was Dumb

In Lancashire the victim of nearly every funny story is the "tackler," an onlooker in a mill. He is invariably made out to be an extremely stupid fellow. The following is a typical example as told by White Canfield:

"Two tacklers, dressed in their Sunday best, met in the street, and one remarked to the other:

"Why, Bill, how nice your suit looks. You only had it new the same time as mine and look how mine has gone out of shape."

"Well," remarked Bill, "you should do the same as I do; get one of them coat hangers."

"His friend's face brightened and he departed full of glee. They met again some time later.

"Well," said Bill, "did you get that coat hanger I told you about?"

"Yes," replied the other, "but the blooming thing made my shoulders sore."

The Wonderful Baby

"Now, then, ladies and gents," shouted the rosy-faced showman, "walk up an' see the most wonderful baby on earth! The charge for admission is only sixpence. Walk up! Walk up!"

A good many people responded to the invitation, and when the place was full the showman brought forth all respects.

"What is there wonderful about it?" asked one of the disgusted audience of the showman. "I've seen thousands of babies like it."

"Well," said the showman, getting near an aperture in the booth, "all I can say is that its mother says it's the most wonderful baby on earth, an' if she doesn't know 'who does? You'll have to take the lady's word for it!"

He turned to the lady and asked her to be shown around to lead the way down the aisle and disappeared from view.—London Times.

Social And Watch Party Tomorrow.

A New Years Eve party in the nature of a social of seasons is being planned by the members of the Westminster Guild. This important event will take place tomorrow evening in the Sunday school room of the Washington Avenue Presbyterian church and an invitation has been extended to everyone to attend. The Sunday school room has been decorated to represent the four seasons and all those present will be divided into four groups according to the season of their birth. Later, envelopes will be distributed and a penny will be collected for every year of each person's life.

Between the four groups and everything points to a good time. In closing a watch service will be held including community singing. Luncheon will be served, each season serving something.

FOSTER-FATHER

STARTS TO FIGHT BACK

Chicago, Dec. 30.—With the investigation into the death of Billy McGintock virtually marking time, pending completion of chemical analysis of the vital organs, William D. Shepherd, foster-father of the youthful millionaire, has started a counter-offensive against his "traders."

Shepherd said he would make public a will left by Bill's mother in 1939 in which Shepherd and his wife are named as sole guardians of the boy and in addition are given a considerable amount of money. This is ample testimony of the mother's high regard, Shepherd said, and will go to prove his fatherly interest in Billy.

Shepherd regards as a victory the refusal of Coroner Wolff to make public at this time the report of the chemist on their examination of the vital organs.

"PETER PAN" IS A DELIGHT AT THE

"Peter Pan," which has stood for twenty-one years as one of the most charming classics of the stage, in picture form proves one of the most delightful fantasies ever screened. The production, produced by Paramount from the novel and play by James M. Barrie, opened yesterday at the Coyle Theatre. Betty Bronson, Ernest Torrence, Cyril Chadwick, Virginia Brown Faire and Anna May Wong are featured in the cast.

The story, adapted for the screen by Willis Goldbeck, is a delightful, modern fairy tale. "Peter Pan" is a bright, mischievous boy, head of the cut for having a good time. The picture opens in the Darling home. The children's mother, entering the nursery at bedtime, is startled by the glimpse of a little boy walking lightly on the window sill. She is greatly alarmed for the safety of her children.

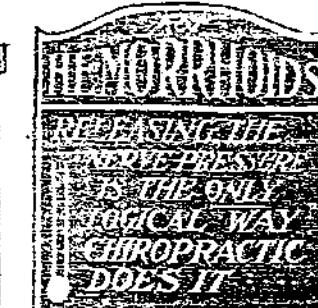

Mr. and Mrs. Darling go off to dine with a neighbor opposite, leaving the children asleep in bed. At the window the little boy appears again. He opens it and jumps lightly in—"Peter Pan" from the "Never Never Land." He tells Wendy and her two brothers, John and Michael, of Indians, pirates, the Little Lost Boys or his underground home, fairies—everything they have known in their dreams, in fact. He offers to carry them off. They consent. Peter teaches them to fly and when the parents return the nursery is empty.

On a fleecy white cloud, lazily drifting, Wendy, John, Michael and Peter Pan arrive in "Never Never Land." We couldn't begin to tell of the adventures which befall them here in the land of their dreams.

"Peter Pan," directed by Herbert Brenon, was adopted for the screen by Willis Goldbeck. Roy Pommeroy was technical director. He did the trick camera work on Cecil B. DeMille's "The Ten Commandments."

YOUNG MAN'S CONDITION
REMAINS SERIOUS

According to reports of Dr. H. E. Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Thomas of Park Way, Monessen, report that the youth's condition is unchanged. Early last evening young Thomas, who is a patient in the Charleroi-Monessen hospital, seemed to recognize his father, but during the night he became very delirious and restless and remains in a state of coma with which he has been enveloped since the fatal accident of Christmas Eve.

DEMOLAY CHAPTERS PLAN CELEBRATION ON JANUARY 1

All of the DeMolay chapters of the Order of DeMolay, an organization for young men 16 to 21 years of age, will join in a celebration at the Syria Mosque, January 1. There will be dancing on two floors, besides entertainment, motion pictures and other amusements.

This New Year's reception is being undertaken by the Dads' Association of Western Pennsylvania of which George Rankin, Jr., of Wilkensburg, is president. Each chapter of the Order of DeMolay has an advisory council composed of 12 men who are members of the Knights Templar. The advisory councils of the 18 chapters in Western Pennsylvania form the Dads' Association of Western Pennsylvania. The Knights Templar are sponsoring the Order of DeMolay in this state. Ralph C. Minehart, past grand commander of the Knights Templar of Pennsylvania, and now the deputy of the Order of DeMolay for this state, has arranged to be present.

Preparations are being made to accommodate more than 2,000 couples. The Dads' Association has planned to make this an annual event. The Syria Mosque will be decorated just as it was for the big Shrine celebration New Year's eve.

1924 due cards will admit all DeMolays, and it is expected that the Monongahela valley chapter will furnish a large attendance.

CANNIBAL MAN KILLS AND EATS FIFTEEN MEN

Berlin, December 30.—Karl Denke, the "cannibal man" of Munsterberg, who lured victims to his lonely Silesian farm and ate them, has been practicing cannibalism for ten years, police investigations today revealed.

Neighbors of Denke told of suspicious meat cooking in cauldrons which the farmer tended himself. Evidence was found of the death of 15 men recently, Denke having preserved their clothing.

The "cannibal man" committed suicide when arrested. The authorities found little clay medallions in Denke's home, with quaint inscriptions and dates, apparently commemorating each murder. It is recalled that Fritz Haarman, Hanover murderer, similarly kept account of his victims.
